

around the world

FROM NEWS AND EVENTS TO THE LATEST BOOK RELEASES – WELCOME TO REAL TRAVEL'S MONTH IN PICTURES...

Tracing tea

In the 23 years that the Kunjerab has been open to foreigners, hundreds of Landrovers, buses and cyclists have passed through, but the world's highest border crossing remained off limits for auto-rickshaws – until now. On October 31, 'Tracing Tea' members Andrew Daynes, Max Lovell-Hoare, Sam Datte-Paulin and Sophie Ibbotson completed the first auto-rickshaw crossing of the 4,693m pass between Pakistan and China. In celebration of the 350th anniversary of the introduction of tea to Britain, the crew are undertaking a 15,000km expedition tracing the drink's story. Follow their progress at www.tracingtea.com

